How to Make a Tote Bag, using Patchwork with Scrunch Handles Pamela Maggenti

Hello, my name is Pamela Maggenti I am writing a series of eBooks on “How to make a Tote Bag” and this one is using Patchwork. This is truly a beautiful tote bag and the first to also have my new scrunch handles. Everyone that has seen them has fallen in love with this new tote bag and calls them works of art.

Normally this type of project would require a medium level experience before attempting a project like this. My eBooks are different from your normal fabric store type patterns that are hard to understand. In fact, I think if you had some experience with sewing you could actually make this Tote Bag by just looking at the drawings and pictures.

I have included extensive instructions without any fluff. Let me explain that a little further. You know how they say a picture is worth a thousand words. Well if that was true, then this eBook would have 46,309 words worth of instructions, but it only has 2,309 words worth of instructions but it also has 44 pictures and drawings. Therefore, you should have a lot of fun making this without all the hassle that normally comes with a complex pattern like this. If you do run into a problem you can always contact me all the information is in the eBook.

I also wanted to tell you about my personal mission; sure I want to share my love for sewing but I really want is to end the need for the use of plastic bags for shopping. You see my tote bags are my solutions to the use of plastic bags for any type of shopping. I want you to know that every time you use your tote bags for shopping there is at least one or maybe even two plastic bags that are not being used and you're helping to save the life of a sea turtles. Not to mention all the other sea life and animals even birds every single time you use your tote bags.

Right now, a lot of cities have already stopped the use of plastic bags for grocery shopping. Some cities have started to charge up to 25 cents for each plastic bag that you use. Therefore, as you can see at some point in the very near future no matter where you live, they will stop the use of plastic bags. Here is your chance to make sure you never get charged for them and to save sea turtles and animal lives.

Ok so back to these great Tote Bags, here is a short list of benefits to using them:

- This patchwork tote bag is also fully lined.
- You can literally use it every day, as a large purse.
- It is approximately 12” x 14” x 7” so it can really hold a lot.
- This is the first to have my scrunch handles, which are really fun, beautiful and comfortable on the hands.
- You can use these tote bags for grocery shopping, clothes shopping, camping trips, beach parties the list is truly endless.

My favorite time of the year is the holiday season; I have made several sets of totes for the holidays. I know you will find yourself making all kinds of excuses to make more of these patchwork tote bags especially when the fabric is on sale.

I am also giving you permission to sell the finished product just like the Totes in volume I so you can create an extra income for your family or just for your self. The only thing that you can not sell is the pattern or instructions, the idea, or any part of it as stated in the eBook.

So get your copy right now and know you're saving the life of sea turtles, as well as other animals and birds.

Happy Sewing...
